VIRUS ALERT- Fake DHL Notice

Important Information Regarding Fraudulent Use of DHL Tracking eMail

A fraudulent email is being distributed with the subject line "DHL tracking number". The email contains an attachment with a virus that should not be opened. Please delete the entire email and be advised that the package referred to does not exist and that DHL delivery services are operating normally.

Do not open attachments from DHL notifying the end-user of an undeliverable package, UNLESS the email was expected, and/ or sent from www.dhl.com
